MODERN WOODMEN PUT PEP IN HOME COMING

BRAINERD'S SEMI-CENTENNIAL FEAST AND HOME-COMING

50,000 WOODMEN, ROYAL NEIGHBORS AND FAMILIES EXPECTED "WOODMEN DAY," JULY 7
SPEAKERS OF THE DAY WOODMEN OF NATIONAL REPUTATION; PARADE, ETC., PLANNED

The Modern Woodmen of America, Camp 2337 of Brainerd, has put the big punch in the "Home Coming Week of Brainerd." They have formed the plans to make their day of the week, "Modern Woodmen Day," Friday, July 7, one of the biggest days of the whole celebration.

From the Modern Woodmen Press of Rock Island, Ill., there has been issued two-color posters announcing "Modern Woodmen Day of the Brainerd Semi-Centennial Celebration and Home-Coming Week." Mention is also generously made by the Woodmen of the entire program for the week.

Under the direction of Clerk C. Bruhn hundred of these posters will be displayed in Brainerd and every other Woodmen town within a radius of 150 miles of Brainerd.

The speakers of the day on Woodmen Day will be men of national reputation. So far they include Supreme Organizer Ralph E. Johnson, "Modern Woodmen"; Editor John F. Harris and State Deputy Edward F. Burns. Head Consul Talbott may even come too, for he has under consideration plans to attend the big day in Brainerd.

The Woodmen are confident they can bring 50,000 Modern Woodmen, Royal Neighbors and their families to Brainerd July 7 and many will stay for the whole week.

District Deputy J. P. Shaver of Long Prairie since May 15 has established his official headquarters at the Ransford hotel and from his central station is keeping in touch with the hundreds of Woodmen camps which will be at the Brainerd celebration. Many will bring forester and degree teams.

A mammoth membership drive is linked with the celebration and District Deputy Shaver is confident 500 new members will be added to the local district. There will be an open air class adoption and later a big initiation indoors in the evening, the latter for members and candidates only.

District Deputy Shaver is confident there will be large delegations from every camp in his district of the Modern Woodmen.

The Modern Woodmen official paper of May contained a general write-up of the week's celebration in Brainerd, written by Supreme Organizer Johnson. The June number of this national fraternal magazine will also have extended mention.

The Woodmen poster calls attention to the historical parade, pageant, to the other special days, Ex-service Mens' Day July 4, Farmers' club day, N. P. and M. & I. railway day, Old Settlers Reunion, etc., to the spectacular fireworks, water sports, famous fish fries, lumberjacks' reunion, Indian village, carnival, etc.

L. T. Noggle is chairman of the committee on finance.

Rooms! Rooms! Needed!

With 50,000 people coming to Brainerd in one day, it will take rooms and more rooms to house them.

Should you be able to accommodate one or more visiting Woodmen or Royal Neighbors for a day or two that week, information should be given either of the Woodmen camp clerks as to rooms you may have and also your charge for them. Let the clerks, C. Bruhn and J. J. Roney know this promptly.

The commission will meet French and British debt plenipotentiaries within a short time to thresh out a concrete plan which has already been drawn up in a general way by Secretaries Mellon, Hughes and Hoover, it was said.

(By United Press.)
New Orleans, June 2.—The revolution reported under way in Mexico will be joined soon by General Felix Diaz who will assume leadership of the forces seeking to overthrow the Obregon government, according to an announcement made here by Guillermo Rosas, secretary of General Diaz. The revolution, which is already backed up by approximately 15,000 trained troops and 20 military leaders of different states in Mexico, is fast gaining strength, the announcement said.

Leaders are seeking to place Diaz at the head of the Mexican government and re-establish the constitution of 1857, the announcement said.

MARY PICKFORD'S DIVORCE UPHELD

Carson City, Nev., June 2.—Mary Pickford's divorce from Owen Moore, validated here yesterday when the state supreme court ruled the attorney general had no power to institute and maintain an annulment action, had removed today the legal shadow which was cast on the film star's marriage to Douglas Fairbanks, who claimed her as his wife one week after she obtained a decree of divorce at Minden, Nev., in 1920.

The court upheld the claim of the attorney general that his office was clothed with all powers granted under the common law, but added that the office inherited no power to bring an independent action to set aside a decree of divorce.

The divorce in 1920 precipitated an action by the state for dissolution of the decree on the ground that Miss Pickford's residence in the state had not covered the period required by law.

BANK OFFICIALS ARE SUMMONED TO TESTIFY IN GOV. SMALL CASE

(By United Press.)
Waukegon, Ill., June 2.—Officials of Governor Len Small's bank—the Kanakkee Trust and Savings bank—were summoned today to testify in the trial of the governor, charged with conspiracy to juggle state funds for his personal gain.

While officials of the governor's bank waited in the waiting room, Assistant Attorney General Wilkerson quizzed Harry M. Swanzie, auditor of the Livestock Exchange National bank of Chicago.

Swanzie identified countless drafts, checks, ledger entries and vouchers showing transactions between the bank and the governor.

Swanzie was faced by a carload of books, records and papers, and was called upon to identify each and explain the method of making entries in the books.

WARD SHOOTING CASE NEAR A SOLUTION

(By United Press.)
White Plains, N. Y., June 2.—The Ward shooting case was near a solution today. The arrest last night in a New York hotel of James J. Cunningham, alias "Jimmy the Rat," as a material witness, may prove the key to the mystery surrounding the death of Clarence Peters, ex-sailor, whose body was found in a lonely road near Kensico reservoir on May 16. It also may tend to turn back the curtain of secrecy and open the blackmail plot which Walter S. Ward claims was the cause of his killing Peters in self defense.

The most startling piece of information offered by Cunningham during the grilling cross examination, was that Ward's blackmail story is false in that Peters and his gang was not blackmailing the son of the millionaire baker.

He told District Attorney Weeks that Ward was getting money from his father by telling him certain underworld inhabitants were threatening to expose him.

Woodrow Wilson Foresees Democratic Triumphs

(By United Press.)
St. Louis, Mo., June 2.—Triumphs are undoubtedly at hand, Woodrow Wilson said today in a telegram to Missouri voters. The message was addressed to William H. Gruen, who wired the former president asking him to interest himself in getting good democrats to run for committeemen in St. Louis.

Wilson's reply expressed the hope that such candidates may be found "so that our ranks may be full for the great contest by which our renewed triumph must be won."

Wilson concluded by saying "those triumphs are undoubtedly at hand."

MAX OSER BRANDED AS FORTUNE HUNTER BY AMERICAN COUSIN

FIANCEE OF MATHILDE MCCORMICK AFTER MONEY OF ROCKEFELLER'S NIECE

(By United Press.)
Chicago, June 2.—Max Oser was branded as a fortune hunter today by Emil Burge, his Chicago cousin. Burge entered the fight with Edith Rockefeller McCormick against the marriage of Mathilde, 17-year-old granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, to Oser, Swiss stableman.

"It isn't Mathilde he wants, but a life of ease during his declining years," Burge charged.

Cousin Emil said he was ready to aid Mrs. McCormick in the battle in probate court she has waged on her divorced husband, Harold F. McCormick, Mathilde's guardian, who favors the marriage.

"If she is looking for evidence to induce the court to restrain McCormick from allowing the marriage of Max to Mathilde, I will give her plenty. Max is worth about $10,000 which isn't enough to make him comfortable during the rest of his life. He wouldn't have that much if he hadn't over charged American tourists."

"Let Mathilde's relatives cut off her allowance, and see how much longer Max loves her."

"Mathilde isn't the first American heiress whom Max 'shined' up to. Max when I knew him never let an opportunity knock more than once. I see no reason to believe he has changed."

Oser Disappointed

Zurich, June 2.—Crushed by attacks upon him as a "fortune hunter" and disappointed at the failure of Mathilde McCormick to sail to him on the Bernegaria as he had expected, Max Oser, former Swiss livery stable proprietor, is in hiding today.

"The whole business is worrying Max sick," Captain Dufour, who succeeded Oser at the riding school here, said today.

"He dares not show his head." Oser is determined that the wedding is going through. He has been hurt by the attitude of Mrs. Edith McCormick, mother of the girl, and is anxious to have the ceremony concluded at the earliest possible moment.

W. Churchill's Threats Strengthens Free State

(By United Press.)
Dublin, June 2.—Winston Churchill's challenge to Ireland to uphold the treaty which establishes the Free State, has greatly strengthened the hand of the provisional government leaders. This was apparent today as the committee had ample opportunity to digest the import of the colonial secretary's threat to re-occupy.

Irish citizens of the south have been aroused to determined activity to end the present conditions of lawlessness and interference with the establishment of the Free State. The question asked on all sides is, "Where does De Valera stand?"

The republican chieftain reiterated to the British press a statement he had earlier given the United Press that he defied "the right of any Englishman to prescribe what Irishmen shall or shall not do."

CO-OPERATIVE MARKET MOVEMENT WINS BY COURT DECISION

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, June 2.—A victory for the co-operative marketing movement was won today when the state supreme court upheld the 1921 law prohibiting the South St. Paul livestock exchange from forbidding its members to deal with non-members. The law also applies to the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce.

George Grism, member of the livestock exchange, was fined $200 by the exchange for doing business with a man not a member.

Grism refused to pay the fine, and the supreme court upheld his contention that he had a right to deal with non-members of the exchange.

STRIKE OF ENGLISH ENGINEERS ENDED

BY A VOTE OF 99,000 TO 46,000 ENGINEERING UNIONS DECIDE TO ACCEPT EMPLOYERS' TERMS

(By United Press.)
London, June 2.—By a vote of 99,000 to 46,000, representatives of 47 engineering unions whose 600,000 workers have been locked out since May 1, decided today to accept the employers' terms.

CATHOLICS FLEEING FROM ULSTER FOR IRISH FREE STATE

20 CATHOLICS HAVE BEEN MURDERED IN BELFAST DURING THE PAST WEEK

PAST TWO DAYS HAVE BEEN THE MOST TERRIBLE IN HISTORY OF THE CITY

(By United Press.)
Belfast, June 2.—Thousands of Catholics are fleeing from Belfast toward the Free State border.

The welter of bloodshed during the past week when 20 Catholics were murdered and others killed in street fighting, has greatly speeded up the exit which has been underway for months. Many of the Catholics are taking boats for England, but it is reported that the most are hurrying south to join the Free State or republican armies below the frontier.

Massacres and burnings continued yesterday unabated. Official reports indicated that the past two days have been perhaps the most terrible in Belfast's history. It has become impossible for the Ulster officials accurately to count the casualties.

They landed the craft in a residential back yard of Dover village, Cleveland waterfront suburb.

Two other contestants in the national balloon race—Ralph H. Upson, Detroit, and C. G. Andrus, Washington, were forced to land their craft a few hours earlier at Concord, 20 miles east of here. They were never in danger.

Relieving Mother's Mind.

Wendell had long, yellow curls and his parents decided it was time for a major operation for their removal. So father took the lad to the barber's, mother watching them out of sight, with moist eyes. At length the two returned and mother vainly tried to keep back the tears at the thought of the loss of her baby. Wendell went to her in a solicitous manner, understanding that her crying was for him. He threw his arms about her neck and said, solicitously: "There, mother, don't cry. It didn't hurt a bit."

The commencement speaker was Dr. C. A. Prosser, president of Dunwoody Institute and he gave a remarkable address, eloquent and withal just brimming over with sage advice, gentle admonition and a sincere and glowing tribute to youth and how, open-eyed, confident and unafraid it faced the future.

Class Honors

To Miss Mary Tornstrom fell the honor of revealing the honor students.

Highest honors did not fall to any one student. The race was so close that it could not be divided and Helen Holden and Alice R. Johnson were the ones awarded highest honors for general scholarship.

Nine others, named honor people, followed and were Kenneth E. Brackner, Donald D. Closterman, Beatrice R. Guin, Ruth M. Gustafson, Astrid Marie Olsen, Gladys A. Peterson, George E. Sargent, H. Ellen Tervo, and Elizabeth Wilson.

Class Officers

The class officers are President Helen Holden, Vice President Robert Gemmell, Secretary Astrid Olsen, Treasurer Maurice Stoner, Miss Tornstrom is the faculty advisor.

The class colors are crimson and silver grey and the motto "Esse Quam Videri". The class flower is the red molly rose and each girl of the graduating class wore these roses.

Diploma Presentation

President George D. LaBar of the board of education, who generally gives out the diplomas, showed thoughtful courtesy by asking three board members to give diplomas to their children of the class.

There was loud and continued applause as Mrs. W. H. Gemmell gave the diploma to her son Robert W. Gemmell. Fred Drexler gave the diploma to his daughter Georgia Drexler. M. E. Morrison gave the diploma to his daughter, Cecile I. Morrison. K. S. Bredenberg, the other board member, was out of the city and so President LaBar gave the diploma to Lester Bredenberg.

Dr. Prosser's Address

Dr. Prosser was introduced by Supt. W. C. Cobb. Dr. Prosser paid a tribute to city, school, teachers, parents, all for doing their share in assisting to graduate such splendid class from Brainerd high school. These closing exercises marked the finish of high school work and the entry into the broader activities of life. The job was not completed.

"Some of you may think the world lies conquered at your feet by the sight of your sheepskins", said the genial doctor. "But no job is ever done up to its utmost possibility. In reality none of us is big enough for our job."

He said he was always thrilled to stand in the presence of youth. With young eyes, keen ears, hair untinted with gray, rich blood coursing through their veins nothing was so thrilling as to stand in the presence of this class so blessed, expectant and unspoiled, eager to do its share of the work of the world.

In graphic manner Dr. Prosser traced history from the days of the cave man to the present. There lived in Minneapolis a lady who recently attained her hundred birthday and Dunwoody Institute sent her a huge birthday cake. Taking the life span of 50 such ladies, placing them tandem like cars in a train, would bring history from the caves to the light of this century. And all of the great conveniences, inventions, etc., of history occurred within the life span of the last two ladies living from 1722 to 1822, from 1822 to 1922.

He envied the class of 1922 for they would live to see many changes in nature and human nature now undreamed of. They would see radio perfected that it would soon not be safe to carry any thoughts around. Somebody would certainly appropriate thoughts unless they were copyrighted.

All water power would be harnessed and "white coal" will succeed the present coal of commerce. Remedies will be found for the many diseases now producing human misery. The white plague will be mastered. Accidents will be reduced. Unemployment will be solved. Employment will be made steady with reasonable wage for all.

Most of our education we do not get in schools, said Dr. Prosser. Schools give systematic training. America expects graduates of its public schools to make something out of themselves and to be of worth to the republic. Education fails if it does not inculcate mental appreciation of the things that are worth while.

The doctor appreciated the man or woman who had a hobby and praised especially the reading habit.

The Rights of Childhood

"The chief business of any people or age is the proper care of its children", said Dr. Prosser. "So true is this that it would be easily possible to state the rights of a people in terms of the rights of childhood and to describe its widening program of social welfare in terms of the goals which it has set up or its children."

"In a democracy at least every child is entitled to two rights, which are inalienable and which constitute the ends toward which the people must constantly strive in their political, social and economic affairs. The first is the right properly to be born, and the second is the right properly to be adjusted to life and to work."

"These rights like all the blessings of the human race are not completely realized and possibly never will be fully realized. They are the marks of our high endeavor, and they blaze the path of social progress. In proportion as each succeeding age makes more full and secure the right of children properly to be born and and properly to be adjusted to life will not only have a better posterity, but will have achieved in proportionate degree a larger economic and social justice, better standards of living, and a better race of people."

"The right properly to be adjusted to one's environment means again not the right of equality of condition but the right to rising standards of what constitutes equality of privilege and opportunity among all the children of all the people."

"If the youth is properly to be adjusted to life he must have a period of infancy sufficient in length and character to prepare him for his duties as a man, a worker, and a citizen. The history of the modern age could be written in terms of the progress we have made in our conception of the demand which life and work makes upon the youth and in the steps we have taken to fit him to meet these duties."

Lengthened With Civilization

"This period of infancy has lengthened with civilization. It marks men off from the animal kingdom, since he is the only animal that takes care of its offspring beyond the very dawn of physical strength."

The history of the last hundred years can be written in terms of this increase in the length of the period of infancy from one generation to another.

We have passed from a period during which parents were allowed to rear their children without any education to a time when this country has practically accepted 16 years as a minimum age at which children may leave school and go to work. We have passed from a period when children went to work by the thousands at the tender age of 6 to a day when in this country no one can go to work under 14 years of age, and are rapidly approaching the day when no one can go to work under 16 years of age without having finished a common school education and received a permit to engage in an approved wage earning occupation."

"This period of infancy is a period of conservation of the youth in order that he may realize more fully upon his assets in the days to come. Conservation of both natural and human resources is accented by this enlightened nation as a fixed policy. Conservation always costs, because it is the making of sacrifice today for the sake of the deferred dividends in a healthier, more intelligent, more efficient, therefore more prosperous and enlightened posterity."

"How far we shall go in any program of conservation for human welfare after all depends upon how keenly Society realizes the need of conserving human kind what resources it has to take the next forward step, and how willing it is to pay the cost in money and in sacrifice to the end that the next generation may receive enlarged and enriched the heritage of better birth, better blood, better preparation, and higher ideals."

President LaBar

President George D. LaBar of the board of education, congratulated the class upon its successful school work and wished them godspeed. It was a source of great satisfaction to the board to graduate the largest class in the history of the high school.

He called attention to the needs of Brainerd's school system, the absolute necessity of a new high school in the near future to care for the ever increasing roll of pupils.

Supt. W. C. Cobb

Supt. W. C. Cobb thanked the public for its hearty support of school functions in the past and assured them the school appreciated the interest shown by all citizens. In addressing the class he said America expected her school system to turn out 100 per cent Americans, true to this government, obedient to its laws and loyal to American schools.

Music of Program

The music of the program included selections by the high school orchestra and glee club led by Miss Marion Opsahl. The glee club sang "Summer Breezes", "Spring Time", the "Spinning Chorus from the Flying Dutchman". The class song was sung by graduates at the conclusion.

The eloquent invocation and the concluding benediction was delivered by Rev. O. S. Winther.

WHO WEARS OUT THE ROADS?

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH quotes Secretary of State Holm to the effect that the state motor tax exceeds $6,000,000 and remarks that "the automobile owners seem to be doing considerably more than their share in building the roads of the state." "And," snaps the St. Cloud Journal-Press aptly, "the motor vehicles are doing considerable more than their share in wearing out the roads of the state."—Duluth Herald.

We must confess our inability to fully appreciate the Journal-Press editor's process of reasoning in the above quotation from his editorial columns. The Minnesota owners of motor vehicles, under the Babcock law, bear the entire burden of taxation for building and maintaining these roads—the general public, including tens of thousands of motor car tourists who use our highways in the summer months, pay nothing whatever for this purpose.

Probably one-half of the cars that are thus specially taxed are never driven over the roads they helped to build, at any time, while a great majority of those that do use the roads, do so only during a short northern summer. The general public, however, has the benefit of the good roads at all seasons of the year, the year round, at the expense of the owners of motor vehicles, who pay not only a heavy special license tax to the state to build the roads, but also pay an equally heavy government tax when they purchase their cars.

Just how it would be at all possible for the motor vehicles owned and taxed in the state to do "considerable more than their share in wearing out the roads of the state," under these circumstances, we cannot comprehend.

WORK OF WOMEN'S BUREAU

THE WOMAN'S BUREAU of the Department of Labor, in its constructive work of industrial protection for women wage earners, is rapidly winning the cooperation of employers. The bureau has no mandatory powers; whatever influence it wields and whatever cooperation it enlists is due solely to the recognition upon the part of employers of its meritorious work.

This bureau was created by an act of the Republican Congress elected in 1918, which act became effective in June, 1920. The law provides that "it shall be the duty of the bureau to formulate standards and policies which shall promote the welfare of wage-earning women, improve their working conditions, increase their efficiency and advance their opportunities for profitable employment." When it is known that between 8,000,000 and 9,000,000 women are at present engaged in gainful pursuits, the far-reaching effects of such work is easily realized.

An important task which the Women's Bureau is effectively handling is that of winning recognition of the principle of equal wages for men and women engaged in like work. This principle was laid down for industry during the war by the War Labor Board at the time Chief Justice Taft was its chairman. With the passing of the War Labor Board the work for equal wages was taken up by the Women's Bureau.

GERMAN PEOPLE PAY PENALTY

THE PEOPLE of Germany are suffering keenly from the consequences of the great war which was brought about by the German war lords in their dream of world conquest. Six millions of the German people are fed and clothed from the public funds. One-fifth of the population is incapacitated and partly dependent, mostly because of the war, it was declared in the Reichstag. Among them are 900,000 claiming accident insurance, 130,000 who are receiving invalid war pensions, 1,500,000 orphans, 500,000 war widows and 100,000 invalid widows. Every day 10,000 prospective mothers in Germany seek charity shelter to give birth to their children.

The World war has indeed left a terrible trail of misery and suffering, as well as a heavy burden of debt and consequently greatly increased taxation, in military Germany. The ambition of Kaiser Wilhelm to pose as a world conqueror brought all this about, and yet he and other members of his family, who left the people of Germany to meet the conquering Allies and escaped to neighboring states, are living in luxury from the spoils of the imperial regime, and scheming with their adherents of the military party to overthrow the present Republican government and re-establish the monarchy.

NOT A NEW IDEA

THE IDEA that members of the Cabinet should be present in Congress and address the sessions of the two houses on measures applying to their departments is not new. In a letter to T. M. Randolph, Jr., written by Thomas Jefferson in November (1792, Mr. Jefferson said:

"An attempt has been made to give further extent to the influence of the executive over the legislature, by permitting the heads of departments to attend the House and explain their measures viva voce, but it was negated by a majority of 35 to 11."

Birds Guard Our Trees.

We can spray orchards and shade trees with poisonous insecticides, but we would stand aghast at the impossible task of spraying all the trees in all the woods, says the American Forestry Magazine. We must perforce depend on the natural enemies of insects to protect our forests. Fortunately, birds and other foes of insects, wherever their numbers are sufficient, act as effective forest guardians.

Household Help.

In these days of labor-saving devices, why not put a little furniture oil on the baby's dress to keep it floors clean?—Pathe News.

Cheerful Minds.

We are prone to think of contentment and happiness as things afar off which require much striving for, while all the time they may be close at hand if we will but keep our eyes and minds open. True entertainment means cheerfulness of mind and nothing can foster that more than little moments of happy contact with other cheerful minds.

Experiments in Inbreeding.

In an experiment with 600 white rats belonging to the sixteenth to the twenty-fifth generations of brothers and sisters from the same litter it was found, says Science, that close inbreeding produced no deterioration.

POSTAL IMPROVEMENT
WEEK IS OBSERVED

May 1 Sees Inaugurated First General Campaign of Kind in Service.

Without the Postal Service, business would languish in a day, and be at a standstill in a week. Public opinion would die of dry rot. Sectional hatred or prejudice only would flourish, and narrow-mindedness thrive.

It is the biggest distinctive business in the world and it comes nearer to the innermost interests of a greater number of men and women than any other institution on earth. No private business, however widespread, touches so many lives so often or sharply; no church reaches into so many souls, flutters so many pulses, has so many human beings dependent on its ministrations.

"Postal Improvement Week" has been set for May 1, by the Postmaster General. This is the first general campaign of its kind in the Postal Service for several decades. Business men and their organizations, large users of the mail, newspapers, motion pictures, advertisers, and the entire organization of 326,000 postal workers are to be enlisted in this country-wide campaign of interest in postal improvements. Your help is vital. Address your letters plainly with pen or typewriter. Give street address. Spell out name of State, don't abbreviate. Put your return address in the upper left hand corner of envelope (not on the back) and always look at your letter before dropping in the mail to see if it is properly addressed. This care in the use of the mails is for your benefit and speeds up the dispatch and delivery of mail matter.

If you have any complaints of poor service make them to your postmaster. He has instructions to investigate them and report to the department.

WITHOUT STREET ADDRESS
YOUR MAIL IS DELAYED
AT OFFICE OF DELIVERY

The Dead Letter Office has been in existence ever since Ben Franklin started our postal service. Even then people addressed mail to Mr. Ezekiel Smithers, "Atlantic Coast," and expected Ben to know just where Zeke lived.

Perhaps they had Zeke's address in letters up in the garret, maybe a chest full of 'em, but then it was easier to let Ben hunt Zeke. Today people are addressing letters to John Smith, New York, N. Y., or Chicago, Ill., thinking Uncle Sam can locate him, which is just as incomplete as was Zeke's address of yore. The Postoffice Department asks you to put the number and street in the address. It helps you.

Trinidad Col.

How do you expect the Postal Clerk to know whether you mean Trinidad, California, or Trinidad, Colorado?

ALWAYS SPELL OUT THE NAME OF THE STATE IN FULL IN THE ADDRESS.

"MORE BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT"

This apt phrase was used in President Harding's first message to Congress and applies particularly in postal management where postmasters are being impressed with the fact that they are managers of local branches of the biggest business in the world.

HERE COMES A STRANGER!

Let's make our post office look neat. Mr. Postmaster, straighten up the rural letter box, Mr. Farmer. Tidy up some, Mr. Rural Carrier. First impressions are lasting. Maybe Mr. Stranger, taking notice of these improvements, will come back, bringing you benefits. Start these with "POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK" May 1-6.

HUMANIZING THE POSTAL SERVICE

"There is no unimportant person or part of our service. It is a total of human units and their co-operation is the key to its success. In its last analysis, postal duties are accommodations performed for our neighbors and friends and should be so regarded, rather than as a hired service performed for an absentee employer."—Postmaster General Hubert Work.

All Patriot Had to Give.

The flag which accompanied Garibaldi in all his expeditions, has been discovered in the chapel of the Villa Arson of Nice, which belongs to Count Raymond de Castellane. It is stated that Garibaldi stood godfather to the little daughter of his friend, Comendador Arson de Saint-Joseph, and appeared at his baptism with his flag, which he presented with the words, "This is all a soldier can give." Count Raymond presented the flag to the M. sena museum.

Head-Hunting Cannibals.

A race of almost 40,000 head-hunting cannibals, said to be the smallest human beings now in existence as a race, was recently discovered by an explorer in New Hebrides.

THAT there is today a distinct trend of preference toward the Nash Six leavening the whole buying impulse in this class must be plainly obvious even to the casual observer.

The car possesses not only hardy endurance and mechanical competence in strikingly high degree, but it also has a beauty of line and riding comfort that are distinctive and unusual even in this day when more care than ever before has been expended upon these qualities.

PAYING BIDS ARE OPENED ON THURSDAY

Final Award is to be One of Two Low Contractors from Crosby or Superior

ENGINEERS CONSIDERING BIDS

Gravel Pit Product at Darling Being Examined—Other Council Proceedings

The council, at its adjourned meeting Thursday evening, opened the paying bids. Nine bidders were represented, including Ostrand & Hallett of Crosby, C. A. Johnson of Virginia, Ed Johnson & Son of Superior, Wis.; Riches & Son of Superior; Brown & Maturi of Chisholm; Cook, Richards Co. of Crosby; Bellanger-Lindberg Co. of Hibbing; Northern States Construction Co. of St. Paul; A. N. Nelson of Superior.

Ostrand & Hallett bid 75c per cubic yard for excavating, $1.99 per square yard for gravel paving, $2.04-1/2 per square yard for stone paving. Contractor Nelson bid 45c per cubic yard for excavating, $2.05 per square yard for gravel paving; $2.22 per square yard for stone paving. Contractor Nelson some five years ago laid much north side paving in Brainerd.

Engineers have taken the bids under consideration and are examining the Darling pit from which Contractor Nelson intends to furnish gravel.

All Aldermen were present except Aldermen Strickler, Cordes and Koop. Vice President H. F. Michael presided.

The council authorized voting on $50,000 bonds for the general sewer at the next general election. The council has another plan in cooperation with the Northern Pacific railway company. If it fails, then a bond issue will be required. At the municipal election last year, the voters by a heavy majority authorized the council to proceed with this sewer. The council has been working upon the plan and must ask the voters to stand by them with the bonds.

The water and light board asked to borrow $5,000 from the sinking fund commissioners so they may finish pipe laying started. The council granted the request.

The committee on gas was continued and is to report Monday evening, when the gas ordinance may receive its first reading.

Parent-Teachers Association

On Wednesday, May 31, the members and friends of the Parent-Teachers Association very pleasantly surprised the teachers of the Harrison building. Shortly after four o'clock, they entered the building, fifty strong, completely overpowering the girls. During the merry social hour which followed representatives of the faculty expressed the appreciation of this thoughtfulness on the part of the parents. Ice cream and wafers were served to all present.

This party came as an estimable close to a pleasant school year.

DATES ARE JUNE 22 AND 23

On Afternoon of Second Day Hibbing Commercial Club Will Entertain Delegates and Friends

A tentative program for the 25th semi-annual meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development Association to be held in Hibbing June 22 and 23 has been announced by the secretary and president of the association.

Thursday, June 22

Beginning at 10 A. M. the convention will be called to order by President John T. Naughtin of Keewatin.

Address of welcome by Mayor John Gannon, of Hibbing.

Response by President John T. Naughtin.

Report of officers and regular committees.

Appointment of committees.

Address "Northern Minnesota, Past, Present and Future", by Hon. C. C. McCarthy of Grand Rapids. He is often spoken of as the most eloquent speaker in Northern Minnesota. His many years residence in Northern Minnesota and his intimate knowledge of the subject and his love of Northern Minnesota will make this address of great value to everyone.

Noon Recess

1:30 p. m. Address by Hon. E. G. Quamme, President of the Federal Reserve Bank, St. Paul, on a subject which will have to do with present conditions.

William A. Ryder, chairman of the speakers committee of the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce Association, who was formerly with the Reserve Bank will speak.

An address by Miss Frances Lapham, who has great experience with rural school supervision and agriculture, which was gained both in Northern Minnesota and other localities suggested that "David" would be a sufficient title for her address when she was invited to take a place on the program. W. L. Boyd, Professor of Veterinary Medicine also from the State University, will deliver an address on "The Importance of Sanitation and Hygiene in the Prevention of Diseases in Livestock. Cattle raisers, sheep men, and those who are raising other kinds of livestock are all promised a very instructive address on this subject. It is hoped the farmers of northeastern Minnesota will be present in large numbers to hear these valuable addresses.

W. C. Coffey, Dean and Director, Department of Agriculture. The dean is in such close touch with all work in the line of agriculture in Minnesota that one may feel assured of a worthwhile address.

Duluth will send an able speaker to speak on a timely subject. Dog Gets Laugh in Shirley Mason Film
Shirley Mason, the Fox star, is indisputably fond of pets, especially dogs and one of her greatest pleasures is to teach them unusual tricks. In her latest picture, "Little Miss Smiles," she personally superintended the training of an intelligent little terrier which occupies the center of the screen several times, and the result is that his Dogship receives what is known in stage lingo as "a big hand" every time he appears, especially from among the kiddies.

One of Miss Mason's own ideas was teaching the dog several tricks which he does voluntarily in the picture in order to ingratiate himself and win a home with an East Side family which he has decided to adopt. This scene is only one of many funny bits which have helped make "Little Miss Smiles" so successful. The picture is the attraction at the Lyceum theatre Sunday. Miss Mason will also be seen Saturday at the Lyceum in "Queenie."

Henry Walthall Enacts Thrilling Role

The many admirers of Henry B. Walthall will hail with interest his appearance in "A Splendid Hazard," the New Park theatre's feature attraction Sunday only.

In "A Splendid Hazard," Walthall takes the leading male role. The part is rich in opportunities for character portrayal which the actor has realized in full.

The picture is an Allan Dwan production, presented by Mayflower Photoplay Corporation and released thru First National.
